

Klay Williams is a Senior Web Architect and GIS Developer with Bowhead Science and Technology, working under contract with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. Since 2008 he has worked in the USACE Mobile District Spatial Data Branch to create software for the collection, processing, and visualization of geospatial data. Mr. Williams holds a B.A. in Philosophy from the University of South Alabama.